FOREWORD

The Ethnic Minority Human Resources in Psychology Directory was developed by the Office of Ethnic Minority Affairs of the American Psychological Association at the request of APA's Board of Ethnic Minority Affairs (BEMA). It is a listing of APA ethnic minority members who have expressed a desire to serve as professional resources and have provided written permission to have their names included in this Directory.

Who is in the Directory

The 1981 APA Directory Survey included an optional item that invited members to identify themselves according to ethnic background. Approximately 1,300 members identified themselves as belonging to an ethnic minority group. Because of confidentiality concerns, information on ethnicity was not published in the APA Directory and is only used internally by APA. In 1982 BEMA, noting the continually increasing requests for ethnic minority professional resources in psychology, asked that a survey be conducted of identified ethnic minority members of APA. The purpose of the survey was to ascertain the interest of individual members in serving as professional resources as well as to request their permission to list them in this Directory. An initial mailing was conducted in the summer of 1982 and a follow-up during the fall. Thus members included here are those who identified themselves as ethnic minority in the APA Directory Survey and responded to the BEMA 1982 survey or follow-up, providing permission to be included in this Directory.

Entry Information

Each entry in the Directory provides six items of information as follows:

(1) Name

(2) Address

(3) Telephone Number

(4) Ethnic self-identification

(5) Area(s) of professional expertise (up to four)

(6) APA division membership

The first five items are based on information provided by individual members in response to the BEMA 1982 survey, while APA division membership was determined from the 1983 APA Membership Register.

Ethnic Identification

As an examination of item four reveals, there is a wealth of diversity in the specific terminology used by individual members to identify their ethnic background. We have acknowledged this diversity by including each individual's choice in his or her entry. For purposes of convenient reference, however, we have grouped the entries into four commonly acknowledged categories of ethnic minority groupings in the U.S.: American Indian/Alaska Native, Asian/Pacific American, Black/Afro-American, and Hispanic. Users of this Directory should view these groupings as convenient guides only, since the categories are, of necessity, somewhat arbitrary and/or overlapping. We suggest that when ethnic identification issues are of interest, self-identification by individual members should be the determining factor.
